

The Hilltown Chautauqua
presents

Earthcare

The Sense of Wonder ... in a Time of Crisis

Bryant Homestead, Cummington, MA., Saturday, September 10, 2016, 10 a.m.-8:30 p.m. PROGRAM SUBJECT TO CHANGE

	HAY MOW (Red Barn)	MAIN TENT	GROUNDNS (Bryant Road)
10 am.	9:30 am: Welcome (David Perkins) 9:40-10:20 am, TALK: Tribute to William Cullen Bryant, Frank Gado, author of William Cullen Bryant: An American Voice		9:30-4 pm, TABLES AND BOOTHS. Small presses, NGOs, schools, garden groups, etc.
11:30am.	10:15-11:15 am, POETRY 12 Hilltown poets read new poems on wonder and nature, David Giannini, host	11:30 am- 12:15 pm, TALK: “Terrains of Memory: Finding Home in the Landscape,” Lauret Savoy, professor of environmental studies, Mt. Holyoke College, author of Traces . Q and A.	9:00-11:15 am: Guided tours of the Bryant Homestead. (Extra charge.)
NOON		12:30-1:15 pm, MUSIC: Tim Eriksen and Zoe Darrow, Americana -World Music.	Noon-1:15 pm, LUNCH (PREORDERED). Or bring your own picnic. No alcohol. Seating on grounds and in tents.
1:30 pm	12:30-5 pm, ART EXHIBIT: Watercolors by Walt Cudnohufsky. “The Many Moods of New England Landscapes” Introduced by WC at 12:30.	KEYNOTE SPEAKERS: IMAGINING THE FUTURE 1:30-2:00 pm, TALK: “Plenitude: Work and Leisure in the Post-Carbon Society”: Juliet Schor, professor of sociology, Boston College, and author of Plenitude . Q and A.	12:30-1:10 pm: Guided tours of the Bryant Homestead
3 pm.		2:30-3:15 pm, TALK: “A World With Us—or Not?”: Alan Weisman, journalist and author of Countdown and The World Without Us . Q and A.
4 pm.		3:30-4:15 pm, TALK: “Speaking for the Old Growth Forests,” Joan Maloof, founder, the Old Growth Forest Network, and author of Teaching the Trees and Among the Ancients . Q and A.	4:30-5:00 pm: DANCE: “We are all this,” directed by Whitney Wilson and Will Shields and performed by members of the Earth-dance community. In the fields.
5 pm	5-5:10 pm, Introduction to exhibit by Walt Cudnohufsky.
5:30 pm.	5-6 pm: Meet and mingle, with refreshments. In front of Hay Mow.	5:30-6:30 pm, MUSIC: Wistaria String Quartet, w. Gregory Hayes, harmonium. Music by O’Connor, Ungar, Dvorak.	5-6:30 pm, DINNER (PREORDERED). Or bring your own picnic. No alcohol. Seating on grounds and in tents.
7 pm.		7-8:10 pm, DRAMA: “A SENSE OF WONDER,”* with Kaiulani Lee. K. Lee’s one-woman play on the life of environmental pioneer Rachel Carson, author of Silent Spring .

SUNDAY, 9/11: A DAY FOR STEWARDSHIP: WORKSHOPS and NATURE WALKS in the Homestead’s old growth forest, w. Joan Maloof, Bob Leverett and Ted Watt. Second performance of “A Sense of Wonder.”

*Saturday all-day tickets will be honored for the Sunday performance of the play.

For tickets and updates, visit our website at www.hilltownchautauqua.org